The Editor,
THE STANDARD
Sikeston, Mo.
Dear Sir:

I have just read your editorial of July 12, 1935 on the occasion of my Father's 96th birthday and I want you to know both he and I appreciate your friendly comment.

With all good wishes, I am,
Very truly yours,
John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

When Gabriel blows his horn will you be ready to meet your maker or will you want a few more years on earth to lay up a few dollars that you cannot take with you? We know a lot of people who have worked and slaved all their lives to lay up dollars for the rainy day that when old age—the rainy day—came the dollars had flown. To us this is sad. Most of these folks have had little or no enjoyment, unless hard work is so considered, have had few happy days and made no others happy. If we had our life to live over, there would be some things omitted but others added to. A lot of pleasant memories for our life since we could remember and some we would like to forget.

Our great and glorious government is asking every line of business to increase their working force in order to use the surplus man power at the same time the government itself is one of the greatest offenders to be found. Take the postoffice for instance. Hours have been changed and shortage of help have caused poor service that has necessitated the closing of country city postoffices, like Sikeston, one half day a week, that is a great inconvenience to patrons. At least two more clerks are needed here and the office open six days in the week from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. Or that is what we think.

Henry Wolpers, of the Poplar Bluff American-Republic, paid the Standard office a visit Wednesday forenoon. He was in Sikeston soliciting subscriptions for his father's paper and was accompanied by G. C. Baker of this city who carries the papers here. In our opinion the American-Republic is the best country town daily that reaches Sikeston.

Listen to this: A great big lunk of a boy, 19 years of age, who stole a trifle more than ten dollars from the trousers pockets of the lads who had left their trousers in the dressing room at the high school building while out on the football field, was turned loose by Police Judge Carter Wednesday morning to go on his way and steal again. The reason given was the fellow had no money and the city would have to feed him. Don't this beat you? How can such cussedness be broken up if leniency is shown every thief who comes along? His name was V. C. Glover, from Stuttgart, Ark.

We are very pleased that Governor Park selected Caskie Collet to succeed Judge Cole on the Supreme Court of Missouri. This to fill an unexpired term. The new Judge is a very pleasing personality, well versed in law, and will be an honor to the bench, to the state and to himself. His term of appointment expires December 31, 1936, therefore he will be a candidate next year for the full term and should be, and will be, nominated and elected.

It seems like the fewer clothes the girls have on the better picture they take. This is observed by seeing the girls summering at the Northern lakes, and we are way down here in Southeast Missouri.

For the information of the public we want it understood that the hearse that is frequently parked in front of The Standard office doesn't belong to us, and it sort of gives us a creepy feeling. It is a nice new hearse, however, and is parked where it is, thinking some one might come in and do us bodily harm, and then it would be in the right place.

It is a dirty shame to see Missouri's fine highway system going down by the adoption of "black top" in lieu of concrete highways. It is generally stated that much influence is being brought to bear upon the department to use "black top" by certain politicians whose organizations would benefit from such use. We deplore the adoption of "black top" it is nothing but the wanton waste of the taxpayer's dollar and every thinking taxpayer should protest the Highway Commission in Jefferson City and ask that no "black top" be used in their communities. Why should we accept "black top" for our highways when St. Louis and Kansas City have concrete.—Lilbourn Banner.

Nu-wood for the theatre walls also arrived Tuesday. The composition, the same as that used at the Rex, will improve acoustics. Before the theatre is opened this fall, Lyle Malone will remodel the front of his drug store.

WPA HEADS SPEAK AT COUNTY JUDGES' MEETING

"NATURE HAS GIVEN CITY WATER STORAGE TANK"

Amused that a water reservoir should be planned for Sikeston when the city has another more pressing need, John A. Young, fire chief told this week that Sikeston already has a reservoir that could easily serve residents. "Nature has furnished Sikeston with the most perfect water storage tank that man could want and added to it a perfect filtration plant," he said. "The size of the tank covers Southeast Missouri, with the Mississippi river added, and water stands in it within twenty-five feet of the ground surface all the time."

"The depth of the tank is 500 feet," Mr. Young explained, "and in addition, the tank is filled with 450 feet of nice clean white sand and gravel which filters all water taken out by the two deep wells that extend to the bottom of the tank 450 feet, filtering all water that is pumped from the wells and putting it into our towers for use here."

"This tank and filtration plant were discovered when ten citizens of Sikeston had the future of the town at heart and contributed $500 each. They sank a well to a depth of 500 feet and then set the point at 400 feet to place it in suitable coarse gravel."

Sikeston now needs only a storm sewage system, Mr. Young said. If it were installed, every street here could be paved at a cost of from $1.50 to $3.50 per front foot.

With an adequate storm sewer system and with paved streets, Sikeston would advance more rapidly than now, Mr. Young believes. Our schools, churches, and people are "the best," and Sikeston is growing fast. Since January 1, fifty-five building permits have been issued for structures that cost more than $200,000, and east of here work is progressing on the Sikeston cotton oil mill buildings, which cost $150,000.

Sikeston now has a population of 7000. If a few needed improvements are made, it will be increased, since new factories and businesses will be located here, Mr. Young said.

Electric Company Moves

The Whitledge Electric Company was moved Monday from the Matthews garage building to offices on Center street directly east of the Model barber shop. Orville Taylor, who has gained wide knowledge of electric appliances, will be manager of the Sikeston store. The company sells electric refrigerators, irons, and washers and kolkstokers.

Firms Serving Relief to Comply With Tax Laws

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug., 20—Wallace Crossley, state relief administrator, today announced that certificates of compliance with the state sales tax law would be required of every merchant with whom the relief administration does business.

This action followed conferences between Mr. Crossley and Forrest Smith, state auditor, who, last week, in checking a list of merchant's bills discovered that many of the merchants sharing in the relief administration's two-million dollar a month business are delinquent to the state in the payment of their sales tax.

"I am heartily in accord with Mr. Smith that every merchant in Missouri should comply with Missouri's state sales tax law," Mr. Crossley said; "and I feel just as he does, that no merchant evading his just responsibilities in this connection should benefit from relief grocery orders, made possible in part by collections of the sales tax."

Mr. Crossley said that effective at once, certificates would be obtained from each merchant with whom the relief commission does business that the merchant has complied with the sales tax law and has paid the state in full all sales tax due the state.

ISAAC WOUNDED WITH KNIFE; NEGRO IS HELD

Robert Isaac was struck and wounded by a negro who leaped on his automobile as he was returning home at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Isaac suffered a four-inch knife cut in the right side of his abdomen and two lacerations on his left arm near the elbow.

Several hours after Isaac's assaultant fled, James Field, a negro who lives in a cabin behind C. C. White's house, was taken to the Benton jail to await a preliminary hearing on a charge of feloniously assaulting Isaac. A complaint against him was filed in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court.

Isaac said Tuesday that when he turned east onto Highway 60 and started to his residence, a negro leaped on the running board as the car reached a place near the Home Oil Company station while it was still going slowly.

Holding to the car, the negro cut Isaac on the arm. Isaac then struck the negro, sending him to the pavement, before he stopped his machine and walked back to the spot where the negro had fallen.

Rising, the negro hit Isaac over the head with two fishing poles he carried and tried without success to dodge Isaac's fists. When the negro wounded Isaac again with the knife, the blade bent and he turned to run north across the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks and into the darkness.

Isaac was treated by Dr. T. C. McClure at about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, his wounds being closed with ten clips. He said later in the day that he had never before seen the negro who assaulted him. He could think of no motive for the attack except attempted robbery, he said. Isaac is employed by the Midwest Dairy Products Company.

In Court Thursday morning Milo G. Gresham, Field's attorney, told the negro story. Fields had fished late at night, Gresham said, because of coolness and because catfish bite better after dark. He was walking home in the morning with his poles, several fish, and a cane knife he used to cut bait. Reaching town, he met Isaac's car being driven on the highway. It passed Fields, then backed suddenly toward him, Gresham said, making him jump in the ditch to avoid being struck. Are you trying to run over a fellow Fields is supposed to have called.

Isaac then turned his car around at the Home Oil Company station and returned, Gresham said, getting out and remarking that he would show Fields what a white man could do to a negro. Isaac grabbed the fishing poles, Gresham charges, and broke them over Fields' head. While Fields was trying to defend himself, Isaac was cut with the case knife, but as soon as he could escape from Isaac's hold, Gresham said, he ran north, followed by Isaac. He hid in a cotton patch until Isaac gave up a search and returned to his car. Then without his fish, poles, or hat, Fields went home.

Isaac and a companion, whose name was not learned, are said to have been drinking at the time of the encounter. Fields is now free on a $100 bond. His hearing is scheduled to be held next Thursday.

NEGROE'S WIFE BETRAYS HIM BY BUYING CLOTHES

W. S. Coleman, a negro who robbed the Ansell Brothers' service station of $15 in money and two inner tubes Monday night was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt. He is now in the Benton jail, where he will be kept until he is taken to Judge William S. Smith's court for trial.

Shuffitt suspected Coleman as the station burglar when he saw the negro's wife, Anna Mae, buying merchandise at stores here. He found Coleman at the Ansell station at noon, and after he had questioned both the man and the woman, Shuffitt obtained a confession from them. He also recovered $3.45 of the money and a dress, a pair of shoes, hose, and earrings bought by Anna Mae.

In talking to Shuffitt, Coleman said that he stole a key to the station and safe Monday afternoon. That night he entered without difficulty and escaped with his loot.

Coleman was bound over to the circuit court Thursday after he had told about his theft to officers in Judge Smith's office. In his confession Thursday he stated he hid in the station loft until the Ansell's went home, then unlocked the safe, took the money, and climbed out of the window. He denied stealing the inner tubes.

J. T. Fletcher, a negro boy arrested Wednesday is to be tried in the juvenile court for theft of the tubes.

Thompson Bound to Court

Bill Thompson was bound to the circuit court Thursday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Thompson was arrested Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt. He is now in the

PENNSYLVANIA TO FORBID NEGRO DISCRIMINATION

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug.—A new law that will prohibit discrimination against Negroes or any other persons "because of race, creed or color," will become effective in Pennsylvania on Sept. 1.

Hotel and restaurant men are considering an attack on the law's constitutionality. The measure passed both houses of the General Assembly with virtually no opposition. A few days later, however, the House of Representatives received a resolution to recall the bill from the Governor but in the meantime he signed it.

The act stipulates specifically there shall be no discrimination in such places as taverns, hotels, restaurants, soda fountains, hospitals, bathhouses, theatres, amusement and recreation parks, gymnasiums, schools and all public conveyances such as street cars and busses.

The penalty for violation is a fine of $100 to 500 and imprisonment of 30 to 90 days.

WILL ROGERS ON THE HEREAFTER

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Some of Will Rogers' thoughts on the hereafter were recalled today from the pages of a book written by his old friend, the late Charles M. Russell, Montana cowboy artist.

Russell died several years ago as he was about to complete the book, "Trails Flowed Under", a collection of reminiscences of the old West, illustrated by his own paintings and line drawings. The book was published last year by Doubleday Doran.

Rogers wrote the introduction in the form of a letter to his old friend in the other world. It was done about nine years ago. With characteristic modesty, Rogers disclaimed the ability to write an introduction. Continuing, he said:

"There ain't much news here to tell you. You know the big Boss sent a hand-over and got you so quick, Charley. But I guess He needed a good man pretty bad. I hear they been working short-handed over there pretty much all the time; I guess it's hard for Him to get hold of good men, they are just getting scarce everywhere . . .

"I bet you hadn't been up there three days until you had cut your old pencil and was a drawing something funny about some of their old punchers . . . I bet you Mark Twain and old Bill Nye and Whitcomb Riley and a whole bunch of those old joshers was just a waiting for you to pop in with all the latest ones, what kind of a bird is Washington and Jefferson. I bet they are regular fellows when you meet 'em, ain't they? Most big men are. I would like to see the bunch that is gathered around you the first time you tell the one about putting the limburger cheese in the old Nestor's whiskers. Don't tell that Charley until you get Lincoln around you; he would love that; I bet you and him kinder throw in together when you get well acquainted. Darn it, when I get to thinking about all them top hands up there, if I could just hold a horse-wrangling job with 'em I wouldn't mind following that wagon myself . . .

"You will run onto me old dad up there, Charley, for he is a real cowhand and I bet he is running a wagon, and you will pop into some well-kept ranch house over under some cool, shady trees and you will be asked to have dinner and it will be the best one you ever had in your life. Well, when you are a thanking the women folks you just tell the sweet-looking little old lady that you know her boy back on an outfit you used to rep for, and tell the daughters that you knew their brother, and if you see a cute little rascal running around there, kiss him for me. Well, can't write you any more, Charley; dam paper's all wet; it must be raining in this old bunk house.

"Of course, we are all just a hanging on here as long as we can. I don't know why we hate to go, we know it's better there. Maybe it's because we haven't done anything that will live after we are gone.

"From your old friend,
"WILL".

NEW WOMEN'S PRISON IS BEING CONSIDERED

Plans for a new women's penitentiary and a hospital unit for the state penitentiary, both to be erected at Jefferson City, are now being considered by the Bipartisan Advisory Board of the State Building Commission.

Estimates on these two proposed structures aggregate $560,000, making a total of $4,433,036 in construction in the hands of architects at this time. There is now under actual construction on Missouri's $13,000,000 building program, a total of $633,481.

Final plans have been completed for two new dormitories at the Marshall State School. They will cost $204,000. Work has also been started on a new dormitory at the St. Joseph State Hospital. It will cost $201,208. Bids for the construction of four dormitories at the Alcoa Reformatory will be received this month. The estimated cost is $250,000.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

The schools of Broadwater Consolidated District Number 7, which is the only rural consolidation in the county without a high school, opened on August 5. This district is composed of four white schools and two colored schools, but one colored school is not running this year. The school buildings have been painted white lately and the inside a light buff, which adds much to their attractiveness.

The teachers of this consolidation are as follows:
Maple Grove—Oma Norman of Dexter and Eunice Pointer of Bernie.

New Hope—Maxine Brookshire of Newburg and Marjorie Vance of Edgar Springs.

Broadwater—Ruby Tuttle of Bernie.

Hyman—Elizabeth Hammell of Lilbourn.

Colored school—Claudia Mitchell of Poplar Bluff.

Gideon Consolidated Schools opened August 5 with teachers as follows:

Town—L. B. Hoy, superintendent, James F. Miller, Nettie Jackson, Mary E. Parker, Stella Gaebler, Denver Clubb, Eugenia Walker, Florence Westmeyer, Eldridge P. Crow, Marie Cunningham, A. R. Pierce, Dewey Swindell, Kathryn Schmuck, Mary Mumma, Marjorie Anderson, Alice Rhodes, Juanita King, Mary R. Lee.

Tallapoosa—Eugene Spickelmier and Pauline Milburn.

Jericho—Louise Lee and Edna Randolph.

Hartzell—Willard Johnson.

Little Walnut—Ona Weston.

Milbourn—Paul Dixon.

Cottrill—Norman R. Pierce.

Floodway—Orville Kinder.

The Pea Nut School has been moved to Flagland and the new teacher there has not been reported yet.

Marston opened August 5 with faculty as follows: J. F. Sexton, Superintendent, D. S. Revelle, Mary L. Hoffman, Loren A. Matthews, Mrs. L. A. Matthews, Ruth Swank, Elvena Latimer Randolph, Clara F. Bryant (colored).

Risco has already started the new term with the following staff: Oren S. Liley, Superintendent, Joe Turner, Reta M. Toomay, Pearl Parker, Don J. Brewer, Adeline Hull, Wilhemina Wendell, Madge Wilkey, Iris Wilkey Sheehan, Valie Minter Patterson, J. C. Edwards, Bernice Thompson, Aura Bollinger Rice, Cecil Hines, Arnold Lewis, Raymond Patterson, Maybelle Moore (colored).

Parma opened August 19 with teaching force as follows: H. W. Lueddecke, Superintendent, Walter Ford, Eileen Wray, Byrus H. Hall, William A. Merick, John M. The Dawson school opened August 19 with Rexford Sloan of Doniphan beginning his second year there. Adeline Riley Hatcher is the colored teacher and she has been there for several years.

Mrs. G. A. Quinn of Hornersville writes that she will attend our teachers meeting on September 12 and discuss the work of the Parent-Teachers Association. We have not had many P-T. A organizations in the county and the teachers will be glad to get acquainted with the inside workings. Such groups under the wise guidance of discreet officials can be of tangible value to the school life of a community.

R. A. Moyers, former superintendent at Kewanee and Portageville, writes that he would like to give college instruction for credit to teachers of this county and adjoining counties. He has done most of the required work for a Ph. D. Degree and is prepared to offer five courses in History and nine courses in Education. We may be able to organize some classes at the county meet on September 12. The teachers would meet in groups about one night a week.

Lawrence Wiseman of Marston Counselor for Emergency Education Program, has just returned from Columbia and will be at the County Superintendent's office on August 24 and 26 to register unemployed teachers and check on their transcripts. To date the new set-up has not been definitely announced.

Newspaper advertising gains its popularity because it appeals to the public by the greatest method which information can always be communicated — the printed page.

It is a good plan to think before you speak. Some people speak before they think and often cause much grief.

No business man should spend his time talking about the outlook for business. He should spend his time being on the outlook for business.

A chronic kicker is sure to let his foot slip some day.

Unless you ask for what you want by name or brand don't blame the merchant for handing you some other brand. He is not a mind-reader.

Good citizenship means thinking straight, acting straight and being on the square.

Right now is a good time to let loose a campaign of well planned newspaper advertising.

The outstanding characteristic of the American citizen has always been his individualism. It is this more than anything else which has made this nation great in every respect, whether in the realms of business or anything else.

The greatest need of any city is for its citizens to get together, think together and work together to make a better, busier city.

Obviously there must be something wrong somewhere with a lot of the political machinery in this country, but now that the searchlight of investigation has been turned on by the people, we can hope for some needed changes.

But we found the culprit—gasoline that just wasn't suited for hot weather driving. Now, with Phillips 66 we're getting cool running, plenty power, and plenty more mileage. ## URGES THAT SPONSORS PROPOSE WPA PROJECTS

Because the federal works progress administration is intended to last only one year, it is imperative that the state's idle be given employment at once on worthwhile projects and that work be well under way before the appearance of inclement weather, Matthew S. Murray, state WPA administrator, announced Tuesday.

Since he is anxious that the progress of the WPA be fulfilled within the allotted period, Mr. Murray has urged sponsors through

The Base of Every Modern Room Is a Modern

FLOOR!

New wood floors — New tile, stone, linoleum and composition flooring convert old, worn rooms into places for modern living.

Put Your Shabby Rooms "Back on Their Feet." Turn Old Floors Into New Ones

"Down at the hell" means slovenly, shabby, unkept—but the expression might very well apply to battered old rooms as well to people. For in most homes, the roughest wear, the hardest knocks, go to the floors.

A scarred and badly battered floor can spoil the entire appearance of an otherwise attractive room. If the floor itself is too hopelessly worn, laying a new one will pay for itself in every day comfort, convenience, satisfaction, and economy of upkeep.

Scraping, sanding, staining or varnishing the old wood floor that has been neglected too long will also help a room "back on its feet". Loose, worn or broken tile, stone or composition floors may need repairs or complete replacement—if the room is to come into its own.

You can have new floors now! Because of the National Housing Act, attractive floors and other permanent home improvements may be installed at once and paid for out of your income—while you enjoy them. If you do not have quite enough money of your own on hand, local Government-approved banks are lending up to $2000 to responsible home owners, with repayment over periods running up to 5 years.

Any of the firms listed on this page will gladly explain to you how modernization credit is obtained. Now is the time to modernize—to begin with battered floors and make that out-of-date house a modern, livable home.

drainage districts, and school boards, are permitted under the law to sponsor projects, Mr. Murray announced, although individuals and private associates may originate any type of project for consideration by these groups.

When projects are perfected, they are sent, together with a survey and estimate of costs, to the district WPA office. Projects may not be started, however, until they have first been approved in Jefferson City and in Washington and until an allotment has been made for costs.

Members of the ninth area WPA staff here will be glad to advise sponsors concerning merits of proposed projects.

TO COLLECT SALES TAX WITH CARDBOARD DISCS

Three million of Missouri's new sales tax "receipts" were ready Wednesday for distribution to merchants and banks throughout the state. The remaining 15,000,000 ordered will be finished by the end of this week. The new sales tax does not become effective until next Tuesday.

The receipts resemble milk bottle caps and will be in half-cent and one-cent denominations. They will be or round waxed cardboard, 1 and 23-32 inches in diameter. The one-cent receipt will be printed in blue and the half-cent ones in brown. Both will bear a facsimile of the state seal, their value, and this inscription: "Missouri Retailers' Sale Tax Receipts".

"I feel quite certain that the citizens of Missouri, realizing that old age pensions, relief for the poor and distressed, and the care of our unfortunate insane, are dependent upon the proper collection of the sales tax, will wholeheartedly co-operate in the enforcement of that law and willingly obey its mandates," Governor Guy B. Park said Tuesday. "Teh cost inconvenience are inconsequential compared with the great good to be accomplished."

NEGROES CHARGED WITH TRYING TO WRECK TRAINS

Wyatt Rogers, 16-year-old negro boy of near Matthews, and Howard Frank Taylor of Memphis, Tenn., also a negro lad, are being held in Southeast Missouri jails on charges of trying to wreck Frisco trains.

Rogers, officers say, put an iron rail spike at a rail joint, placing it upright between the ends of two rails. Because the sun had made the rails expand, the spike was held securely when a bridge inspector ran into it with his car. Rogers, who has been no reason for his act, is held in the New Madrid jail.

Taylor told officers he put railroad ties on the main line track near McBride so the train would stop. He wanted a ride home, he said. Taylor tried unsuccessfully three times to stop a train. The first two times, a freight and a passenger knocked the ties away without stopping. The third time, while Taylor was trying to brace the ties with others, he was stopped by a passby. He is now in jail at Perryville.

The boys will be tried as juvenile delinquents. Charges against them carry a maximum sentence of twenty years.

An unexpected trip to the home of her mother failed to interfere with the baking plans of Mrs. K. B. McLaughlin of Chalk Mound, Kan. She mixed the dough at her home in Wabunsee County, kneaded it as the automobile traversed Pottawatomie County and finally baked it at her mother's home in Nemaha County.

Gabriel Santana, 40, was arrested for intoxication at San Jose, Cal. When the identification expert of the Police Department started to take his fingerprints, he thought he was seeing a double. Then he looked again and devised a special card for the prisoner. Santana had an extra thumb perfectly formed, on each hand.

Eleven projects have been approved to date by the works progress administration at Jefferson City. If approved by Washington, Jefferson City will receive $3664 for painting school buildings; Fulton will get $5030 for road grading and graveling; Moberly will receive $17,018 for surfacing 12 miles of road; Kennett will be given $4664 for improving its school grounds; Sikeston will be allowed $5320 for laying water main; St. Louis will get $55,926 for landscaping sanitarium grounds, $7983 for improving nursery, $62,610 for treating trees along streets and parks, and $19,886 for street work; and Kansas City will receive $72,080 and $275,084 respectively for street grading and paving.

AWARDED $1500 FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mrs. Lydia Darby was awarded $1500 late Monday by a jury that heard her damage suit against L. S. Smith, filed after the death of her husband, Arthur Darby, from injuries suffered when he was struck by Smith's car.

Testimony and deliberation on the case required all of Monday. Jurors were Luther Felker, foreman, Lomis Mayfield, Joe Peiley, Hez Osment, John Little, Arthur Huey, Joe Walter, E. F. Eggiman, W. E. Hobbs, W. L. Strayhorn, Andrew Welter, and Frank Williams.

Darby, a Stoddard county relief client, sustained a fractured left leg when he was knocked down on Highway 60 near Buffington, February 6. He died the following day in a Cape Girardeau hospital after his leg was amputated following the development of gas bacillus. The case was tried at Benton on a change of venue from New Madrid county.

MAN DACE CAUGHT HAS SERVED PRISON TERMS

Leonard Kesterson, whom Trooper Melvin Dace captured Sunday after a chase down Highway 60 and a hunt in a cornfield east of town, is a former convict, Prosecuting Attorney W. P. Wilkerson said Thursday.

According to records at the bureau of identification in Washington, Kesterson was arrested at Little Rock, Ark., in August, 1933 by a United States marshal and charged with violating the Dyer act. No disposition of this case was noted, but Kesterson was received at the Eddyville, Ky., state penitentiary on October, 1933, to begin serving a two-year sentence. He was admitted at the same prison in 1927 to serve a four-year term for store breaking and malicious shooting.

Kesterson is now in the Benton jail, where he is being held for appearance in the circuit court on an automobile theft charge. The car he was driving was stolen, at Hamilton, Mo., last Saturday night, he told officers in confessing the crime. A Sikeston resident recalled this week that Kesterson was once tried and acquitted at Hickman, Ky., on a charge of killing his half-brother. He will be represented in court at Benton by Robert Dempster.

COLEMAN'S CAR WRECKED AS IT STRIKES BRIDGE

E. P. Coleman's new Dodge coupe was badly damaged early Thursday morning when in struck a drainage ditch bridge on Highway 60 directly east of Morehouse. Carl Estes, who was driving the car, suffered only minor cuts and bruises. The bridge's south railing was completely torn off.

The accident happened at about 3 o'clock Thursday. Art Sensenbaugh, who was called to get the Dodge, found it sitting at an angle on the south shoulder, its mashed front pointed toward the ditch. Damage to the car was estimated at between $350 and $400.

Estes, an employee of E. P. Coleman and Company, was treated here by Dr. T. C. McClure. He was recovering Thursday at his home three miles north of Morehouse.

On Wednesday afternoon, two out-of-town cars collided in town near the Marshall hotel. Damage was slight and no one was hurt.

DENTIST'S OFFICE WILL BE FINISHED NEXT WEEK

Remodeling of a People's bank building office for Dr. Chidister, a Camden, Ark., dentist who will arrive here next week, will be completed before the end of August, J. A. Sutterfield, the contractor, said Thursday.

Carpenters Thursday afternoon finished converting the former office of the late Harry Smith into several small rooms for Dr. Chidister. Painters are to begin work this morning. All plumbing, except installation of fixtures, was completed this week.

Koerber, pastor of the Sikeston and Chaffee Lutheran churches, will officiate. Burial will be in the Memorial park cemetery near Cape Girardeau. Miss Anne Taylor and nephews, Jack and Walter, spent the week-end in St. Louis with relatives.

Mrs. Teemer Miller of Canalou was called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Addie Phillips, who is very ill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Rauch and daughter, Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnett of here, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers, of Logansport, Ind., spent Sunday at Big Springs, on an outing and picnic.

Miles Cramer, 38, unemployed Chicagoan, had been experimenting with inventions for years, but none of them worked. Last week he killed himself with his latest device, the only one that was a success. It consisted of a 10-inch metal pipe in one end of which was placed a loaded cartridge. It was attached to a gas flame and the heat exploded the cartridge. Cramer stood in the line of fire and was shot through the heart.

Three years ago Nelson Lash of Boston was in the crew of a fishing boat which was rammed and sunk, taking with it to the bottom of the ocean all his clothes in a forecable locker. Last week while dragging for scallops, Lash found an initialed handkerchief which was in his coat pocket at the time of the accident. It was in almost perfect condition, none the worse for its three-year immersion.

Tom Neudick of Red Oak, Ia., was thrilled when he was advised that an uncle in Switzerland had died and left him an inheritance. In establishing his claim, he discovered he had 400 relatives he had never heard of before. All shared alike in the estate. Last week he was paid off by international money order. He received $164.

PALM BEACH SUITS

for now--and for SEPTEMBER

$15.75

Why? BECAUSE — the daily temperature during September for the past five years shows an average of 74 degrees. And weather forecasters predict that this average is likely to be exceeded on 30 of the remaining days up to October first. 72 degrees is Palm Beach suit temperature.

Why? BECAUSE — Palm Beach suits will be maintained at $15.75 thru the season and there is every indication that next summer's price for Palm Beach suits will be higher.

Why? BECAUSE — Palm Beach suits are tailored in a wide variety of all-season patterns and colorings. Stripes, checks, shetland effects... greys, tans, blues and mixtures... suitable for wear right up to the Fall days. Styles for the office, vacations, cruise wear and sports wear.

Why? — Sikestonians who purchase their Palm Beach suits now will have fresh, cool suits for the balance of this hot weather season — and they'll be all set for Southland winter vacations and for summer 1936.

PALM BEACH SUITS are tailored better than they have ever been — they're smartly styled. They are comfortable to wear — porous to let air through... hold their shape. Shed dust and lighten laundry bills. Easy to pack away — take very little space. Dark shades, light shades—and the famous Palm Beach whites—summer's greatest suit values at $15.75

LARGE TURTLE CAUGHT IN LITTLE RIVER AT SALCEDO

A large sea turtle caught in the Little river near Salcedo Saturday was brought here Tuesday by Jesse Dockins.

Mr. Dockins and a companion captured the turtle in water waste deep by grasping its tail and back legs as it clung to the river bed.

The turtle weighs about thirty-five pounds, Mr. Dockins said, and has a shell the size of a small tub. It may be about fifty years old. Its shell is gray colored and it has a hooked beak and hard jaws, making it capable of holding objects securely. Its claws are long and pointed.

Mr. Dockins put the turtle in a tub of water at his farm home near here, but since he had difficulty in keeping it penned, he considered killing and eating it.

RECOVERY NOTES

Compiled by Dwight H. Brown
Secretary of State

Hogs were selling for $12.10 per hundred on the St. Louis market August 15—the highest price since in April, 1929.

Twelve federal building projects in Missouri have just been approved by the federal government. New post offices will be constructed at Marceline, Higginsville, Richmond, Monett, Fredericktown, Vandalia, Kennett and Wellston. Post office-courthouse buildings will be constructed at Kansas City and Springfield, a branch post office at University City and a marine hospital at St. Louis.

The residential building volume in St. Louis and St. Louis county for the first half of this year was more than two and one-half times as great as for the same period in 1934. The F. W. Dodge Corporation announces. Construction contracts to date this year total $7,252,300 as compared with $2,767,500 for the first half of last year.

The U. S. Commerce Department announces that reports from 33 of the larger cities of the nation indicate "expectations of a considerable increase in fall business." A survey of hundreds of firms also indicates an increase in employment beginning with this month.

An increase in Missouri's corn yield for this year is forecast by E. A. Logan, federal statistician at Columbia. Present indications point to a total corn yield of 81,468,000 bushels, an average of 18 bushels per acre, as compared with last year's total yield of but 26,482,000 bushels.

More than $90,000,000 is to be spent by the motor car industry in plant expansions. The General Motors Corporation has announced a $50,000,000 building program, the Ford Motor Company a $27,000,000 expansion program, the Buick Motor Company a $14,500,000 program, the Packard Company a $6,200,000 program and other companies plan new construction to cost millions.

Business is good in St. Louis. In 1934 the F. Burkhardt Manufacturing Company of St. Louis made a net profit of $249,664. To date the company's profit for one-half of 1935 is $450,000, an increase of more than 60 per cent.

Soil conservation camps have been established by the federal government in six Missouri counties, namely, Clark, Franklin, Callaway, Harrison, Marion and Atchison. The Marion County camp is located at Palmyra, and at the suggestion of Editor Don Sosey of that city, has been named Camp Wm. P. Jackson in honor of Gen. Wm. P. Jackson, who was born in Palmyra and served for many years in the regular Army. Hundreds of men have been given employment in these camps.

Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of public schools, has drafted an emergency educational program to be conducted by teachers from the relief rolls for the benefit of about 30,000 Missourians. A total of 987 unemployed teachers are now being prepared to conduct classes in adult education and the program will get under way when federal funds for that purpose become available. Last year the FERA spent $65,000 per month in the state.

The Missouri National Guard is seeking WPA funds for the erection of ten armories in as many Missouri cities. The buildings contemplated will cost $25,000 and the cities in which they are to be built will be selected by National Guard officers.

Construction projects continue to be planned by Missouri cities and counties. Belle is to have a new $75,000 water works system; Springfield will build a $29,969 water works and a $21,621 sanitary sewer system; Centralia is to have a $35,000 school gymnasium; Harrison county is to erect a new $105,735 courthouse; and Saline county is requesting $180,507 for improving 85 miles of rural highways.

TO DISCUSS 1936 COTTON PROGRAM

Director Cully A. Cobb to be at Caruthersville Meeting

Scott county cotton producers who attend the meeting at Caruthersville, Saturday, August 31, will have an opportunity to hear at first hand, from Director Cully A. Cobb of the cotton division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a report of progress made to date and plans for continued efforts to improve the economic condition of cotton. This will not only be the first visit of Director Cobb to this area, but will also be the first all-Missouri and Illinois cotton growers' meeting.

Cotton growers of this area are as vitally interested in the objectives of the cotton adjustment program as are cotton growers of other areas. These objectives have been summed up by Director Cobb as follows: (1) To adjust supplies of American cotton to the demand at a fair price to the producer, and after supplies are brought in line with demand, to maintain a proper balance between supply and demand, (2) To increase the cotton producer's annual income to a level which will enable him to maintain a standard of living equal to that maintained by those in other occupations. (3) To enable cotton producers individually to organize their farming operations so as to make the best possible use of the land and labor.

It is planned by the State Cotton Board, in charge of the arrangements for the Caruthersville meeting, to ask farm organizations of both states to send official representatives to the meeting. The meeting will be held at the fairgrounds where every provision will be made for the comfort of the crowd. A public address system with four loud speakers will make it easy for everyone to hear the speaking clearly. The speakers stand will be under temporary cover directly in front of the covered grandstand where the crowd will assemble.

In a meeting for county committeemen held in the forenoon, Judge M. R. Rowland, Caruthersville, chairman of the AAA Cotton State Board of Review, will preside. J. A. Hemphill, Dunklin county, who is chairman of the State Allotment Board, will preside at the afternoon meeting.

PROCESSING TAX NOW LEVIED UPON 8 FARM PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—AAA processing taxes are now levied on eight agricultural commodities. Funds from the taxes are used to pay benefits to farmers who have reduced production of the affected commodities.

The tax is collected on the first domestic processing of the commodity. The processor pays the tax to the government, passing it on when he sells the commodity or absorbing it as a business cost.

Taxes now levied are: Wheat, 30 cents a bushel. Cotton, 5.2 cents per pound. Hogs, 2.25 cents per pound. Corn, 5 cents a bushel. Peanuts, 1 cent a pound. Rice, 1 cent a pound. Sugar, 1-2 cent a pound. Tobacco, 3 to 6 cents a pound, depending on type and grade.

"THE CHURCH—WHAT IS IT?"

By Elder John B. Huffman
Next Saturday afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, on the streets of Sikeston, Mo., in the little park in front of Sterling's store, Elder John B. Huffman says he will fully explain, "What is the Church, How Do We Get Into It," and that all men and women truly born again should be recognized as Christians; that creeds and doctrines are damning souls each year. He says Jesus Christ alone is the Savior, and not church organizations.

Saturday afternoon, August 31, at 2 o'clock, "What is the Anti-Christ," and all about this Beast which rules for three and a half years, trying to show that he is God, he says.

Saturday afternoon, September 7th, "The Two Witnesses" of the eleventh chapter of the Revelation—the important part they play in the Tribulation Period.

Elder Huffman says that more people were present at both of his recent lectures than could have been seated in an ordinary church building.

He says that in 1932 after raising money from business men and others to buy lots 18 and 19, McCoy-Tanner's third addition to the city of Sikeston—the old Held lots across the railroad from the interlocking tower, in Frisco town, having just a little money left over from purchase of lots and paying back taxes, he gave one of his farms to be used to help erect the new Sikeston church building, "The Latter Rain Tabernacle." That as soon as he can sell it, work will be commenced on the church. If the farm could be sold in ten days, work would be commenced at once. It has been difficult to sell farms the past few years.

He says everybody is invited to his Bible sermons.

If you add bread crumbs, moisten the loaf with slightly beaten egg, or tomato juice, and bake it in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) until it is done, about one and a half hours. A higher temperature than this has a drying effect; also too long cooking produces the same effect.

Q.—How should meat which is left-over from the meal be cared for?

A.—As soon as the meal is over, the meat should be placed in a covered container or wrapped in wax paper and put in a cold place. Unless meat is covered or wrapped before placed in the refrigerator it will dry out and become hard.

There is one exception to the rule of covering meat in the refrigerator. If it is to be kept for a long time, the dried sides helps in preservation. However, in this case, the dry outside slices should be removed before the meat is prepared.

Q.—In broiling my meats often curl. What can I do to avoid this?

A.—Cut the fat around the outside in several gashes. This is especially necessary in broiling ham, as the fat around the outside does not give as the meat expands. If your ham still persists in curling have it cut thicker. A thick piece of meat always holds its shape better than does a very thin one.

THE EDITOR
SAYS—

Rockefeller Center, N. Y.
August 14, 1935

The Editor,
THE STANDARD
Sikeston, Mo.
Dear Sir:

I have just read your editorial of July 12, 1935 on the occasion of my Father's 96th birthday and I want you to know both he and I appreciate your friendly comment.

With all good wishes, I am,
Very truly yours,
John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

When Gabriel blows his horn will you be ready to meet your maker or will you want a few more years on earth to lay up a few dollars that you cannot take with you? We know a lot of people who have worked and slaved all their lives to lay up dollars for the rainy day when old age—the rainy day—came the dollars had flown. To us this is sad. Most of these folks have had little or no enjoyment, unless hard work is so considered, have had few happy days and made no others happy. If we had our life to live over, there would be some things omitted but others added to. A lot of pleasant memories in our life since we could remember and some we would like to forget.

Our great and glorious government is asking every line of business to increase their working force in order to use the surplus man power at the same time the government itself is one of the greatest offenders to be found. Take the postoffice for instance. Hours have been changed and shortage of help have caused poor service that has necessitated the closing of country city postoffices, like Sikeston, one half day a week, that is a great inconvenience to patrons. At least two more clerks are needed here and the office open six days in the week from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. Or that is what we think.

Henry Wolpers, of the Poplar Bluff American-Republic, paid the Standard office a visit Wednesday forenoon. He was in Sikeston soliciting subscriptions for his father's paper and was accompanied by G. C. Baker of this city who carries the papers here. In our opinion the American-Republic is the best country town daily that reaches Sikeston.

Listen to this: A great big lunk of a boy, 19 years of age, who stole a trifle more than ten dollars from the trousers pockets of the lads who had left their trousers in the dressing room at the high school building while out on the football field, was turned loose by Police Judge Carter Wednesday morning to go on his way and deal again. The reason given was the fellow had no money and the city would have to feed him. Don't this beat you? How can such cussedness be broken up if leniency is shown every thief who comes along? His name was V. C. Glover, from Stuttgart, Ark.

We are very pleased that Governor Park selected Caskie Collet to succeed Judge Cole on the Supreme Court of Missouri. This to fill an unexpired term. The new Judge is a very pleasing personality, well versed in law, and will be an honor to the bench, to the state and to himself. His term of appointment expires December 31, 1936, therefore he will be a candidate next year for the full term and should be, and will be, nominated and elected.

It seems like the fewer clothes the girls have on the better picture they take. This is observed by seeing the girls sunbathing at the Northern lakes, and we are way down here in Southeast Missouri.

For the information of the public we want it understood that the hearse that is frequently parked in front of The Standard office doesn't belong to us, is not ordered to await for us, and it sort of gives us a creepy feeling. It is a nice new hearse, however, and maybe is parked where it is thinking some one might come in and do us bodily harm, and then it would be in the right place.

It is a dirty shame to see Missouri's fine highway system going down by the adoption of "black top" in lieu of concrete highways. It is generally stated that much influence is being brought to bear upon the department to use "black top" by certain politicians whose organizations would benefit from such use. We deplore the adoption of "black top" it is nothing but the wanton waste of the taxpayer's dollar and every thinking taxpayer should protest the Highway Commission in Jefferson City and ask that no "black top" be used in their communities. Why should we accept "black top" for our highways when St. Louis and Kansas City have concrete—Lilbourn Banner.

VOLUME 23 SKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 23, 1935 NUMBER 94

COUNTY HEADS DISTRICT DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S CLUB

Mrs. O. E. Rigdon of Chaffee was elected president and Mrs. John Powell of Sikeston was chosen corresponding secretary of the tenth congressional federation of Democratic women's clubs when the organization was formed at a meeting in Poplar Bluff Tuesday. These officers were also chosen: Mrs. Mabel Abington of Poplar Bluff, recording secretary; Mrs. Clara Litzelner of Caruthersville, treasurer; Miss Winona Pence of Marble Hill, historian; and Mrs. Bertha Green of Poplar Bluff, parliamentarian. The ten vice-presidents of the district federation will be women who are chairmen of county Democratic women's clubs.

The elections were held in the afternoon following an informal reception at the Ducker hotel in the morning, a luncheon at noon in the hotel dining room, and talks by prominent Democratic women. The principal address was made by Mrs. Mary Edna Cruzon, state labor commissioner, who urged women to promote harmony in their organization. Other prominent visitor were Mrs. E. M. Zevilly of Lynn, Mo., vice-chairman of the Democratic state committee, who presided; Mrs. W. H. Henton of Doniphan, fifth vice-president of the Missouri state federation of women's Democratic clubs, who planned the meeting; Mrs. Hal Hunter of New Madrid, vice-chairman of the tenth district congressional committee and a member of the state committee; and Miss Gertrude Stokley of Poplar Bluff, also a member of the state committee.

Two hundred Democratic women from throughout the ten counties of the district attended the meeting. Scott county's delegation included Mrs. Arden Ellis, Mrs. C. L. Blanton, Jr., Mrs. H. C. Henry, Mrs. Kate Harris, Mrs. C. A. Cook, Miss Margaret Harris, Mrs. C. L. Blanton, Sr., Mrs. A. C. Barrett, Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. W. P. Wilkerson, and Mrs. N. E. Fuchs, all of Sikeston; Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. W. A. Spencer, and Mrs. O. L. Spencer of Benton; Mrs. O. E. Rigdon of Chaffee; and Mrs. E. L. Purcell and Mrs. V. Ragsdale of Illinois.

Before the meeting was adjourned members present passed a resolution of sympathy to Mrs. Paul Williams of Cape Girardeau, a woman long prominent in Democratic work whose husband died recently, and a second resolution to notify Congressmen of the formation of the district club. The next session will be held at Cape Girardeau during November. A date has not yet been set.

Lad Fails In Attempt To Rob Football Team

V. C. Glover, Jr., was sent back to his home at Stuttgart, Ark., Wednesday after an unsuccessful attempt to rob high school football players of their money. Glover had been here a week visiting his relative, Mrs. Rube Coleman. On Tuesday evening he went to the high school, supposedly to watch candidates for places on the Bulldog squad practice. He talked with them while they changed their clothes in the dressing room and watched as they went onto the athletic field for exercises.

Then he returned alone to the dressing room, and going carefully through the pockets of all clothes except those belonging to John F. Wood, Jr., he extracted $10 and went his way. When the robbery was discovered at the end of the practice period, Coach William E. Mahew remembered that Glover had been in the dressing room. Night Marshal Gid Daniels found Glover at the Diamond Tavern, which he had reached in a taxi. He admitted the theft and returned all the money except 75 cents, which he had spent for a cab and for food.

When Glover was taken into police court Wednesday morning, Judge W. H. Carter decided to let him go since he had no money for a fine and would necessarily be maintained by the city if he were sentenced to jail. Mrs. Coleman took him home.

Glover is 19 years old.

County Wheat Control Group to Hold Election

The Scott County Wheat Production Control Association will hold an election meeting at 3 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, in the various townships in the county. At this time officers for the association year 1935-36 will be elected. Each township will elect a community chairman who will be one of the eight directors of the county association. Two other committeemen will be elected to assist him on work within the township. The county committee voted last Friday night to divide the county up by townships for the districts commencing this year rather than the old districts which they had previously, as it makes it much easier for contract signers to know in which district they are to go for sign-ups, elections, and other routine matters. The elections will be held in the various townships at the following places:

- Commerce—City Hall at Commerce.
- Kelso—Parish Hall at Kelso.
- Moreland—County Court Room at Benton.
- Morley—High School at Vanduser.
- Richland—Russell Brothers at Sikeston.
- Sandywoods—Methodist church at Blodgett.
- Sylvania—High School at Oran.
- Tyavapity—High School at Diehlstadt.

MALONE THEATRE TO BE FINISHED IN BLACK, SILVER

The Malone theatre color scheme will be black and silver. The front and lobby will be constructed of aluminum and black glass, harmonizing furniture will be placed in the foyer.

Black and gray patterned carpet and ivory and silver floor lamp bases arrived Tuesday and were stored until they are ready for installation in the remodeled theatre building. Foyer walls will be silver, curtains black and grey, and some furniture of a light blue.

A lobby light, to be installed in the ceiling, will be eight by two feet, and flat lights along the theatre walls will be six by one foot. Wiring will permit them to illuminate the building in any color and at any intensity.

Nu-wood for the theatre walls also arrived Tuesday. The composition, the same as that used at the Rex, will improve acoustics. Before the theatre is opened this fall, Lyle Malone will remodel the front of his drug store.

"NATURE HAS GIVEN CITY WATER STORAGE TANK"

Amused that a water reservoir should be planned for Sikeston when the city has another more pressing need, John A. Young, fire chief told this week that Sikeston already has a reservoir that could easily serve residents. "Nature has furnished Sikeston with the most perfect water storage tank that man could want and added to it a perfect filtration plant," he said. "The size of the tank covers Southeast Missouri, with the Mississippi river added, and water stands in it within twenty-five feet of the ground surface all the time."

"The depth of the tank is 500 feet," Mr. Young explained, "and in addition, the tank is filled with 450 feet of nice clean white sand and gravel which filters all water taken out by the two deep wells that extend to the bottom of the tank 450 feet, filtering all water that is pumped from the wells and putting it into our towers for use here."

"This tank and filtration plant were discovered when ten citizens of Sikeston had the future of the town at heart and contributed $500 each. They sank a well to a depth of 500 feet and then set the point at 400 feet to place it in suitable coarse gravel."

Sikeston now needs only a storm sewage system, Mr. Young said. If it were installed every street here could be paved at a cost of from $1.50 to $3.50 per front foot.

With an adequate storm sewer system and with paved streets, Sikeston would advance more rapidly than now, Mr. Young believes. Our schools, churches, and people are "the best," and Sikeston is growing fast. Since January 1, fifty-five building permits have been issued for structures that cost more than $200,000, and east of here work is progressing on the Sikeston cotton oil mill buildings, which cost $150,000.

Sikeston now has a population of 7000. If a few needed improvements are made, it will be increased, since new factories and businesses will be located here, Mr. Young said.

Electric Company Moves

The Whitledge Electric Company was moved Monday from the Matthews garage building to offices on Center street directly east of the Model barber shop. Orville Taylor, who has gained wide knowledge of electric appliances, will be manager of the Sikeston store. The company sells electric refrigerators, irons, and washers and kistokers.

Jefferson City, Aug. 20—Wallace Crossley, state relief administrator, today announced that certificates of compliance with the state sales tax law would be required of every merchant with whom the relief administration does business.

This action followed conferences between Mr. Crossley and Forrest Smith, state auditor, who, last week, in checking a list of merchants' bills discovered that many of the merchants sharing in the relief administration's two-million dollar a month business are delinquent to the state in the payment of their sales tax.

"I am heartily in accord with Mr. Smith that every merchant in Missouri should comply with Missouri's state sales tax law," Mr. Crossley said. "I feel just as he does, that no merchant evading his just responsibilities in this connection should benefit from relief grocery orders, made possible in part by collections of the sales tax."

Mr. Crossley said that effective at once, certificates would be obtained from each merchant with whom the relief commission does business that the merchant has complied with the sales tax law and has paid the state in full all sales tax due the state.

The public schools open September 2. Some one has called it "The Great American Road to Culture." But whatever your idea or mine, we are all glad to have the public school, which all children are to attend, until 14 years of age.

In Sikeston, the first five grades will go to the two old buildings as usual, with Miss Florence Crisler as principal. There will be four rooms of first grade pupils under Misses Putnam, Miller and Meredith and Mrs. Hinchey. The second grade teachers will be Misses Newton, Houchens and Blanton and Mrs. Davis. Third grade, Misses Chaney, Mouser, Stubblefield, and Clymer. Fourth grade, Misses Mount, Baker, and Manseman. Fifth, Misses Finley, Ragains and Yanson.

The sixth grade will report to the high school building on the floor with seventh and eighth grade. Misses Tanner, Dalton and Eldredge will have the three sixth grade sections, while Misses Davis, Goodman, Billings, Erley and Mr. Jann will care for the seventh and eighth. Misses Hess and O'Hara and Mr. Stallings will look after the home rooms of the freshmen.

ISAAC WOUNDED WITH KNIFE; NEGRO IS HELD

Robert Isaac was struck and wounded by a negro who leaped on his automobile as he was returning home at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Isaac suffered a four-inch knife cut in the right side of his abdomen and two lacerations on his left arm near the elbow.

Several hours after Isaac's assailant fled, James Field, a negro who lives in a cabin behind C. C. White's house, was taken to the Benton jail to await a preliminary hearing on a charge of feloniously assaulting Isaac. A complaint against him was filed in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court.

Isaac said Tuesday that when he turned east onto Highway 60 and started to his residence, a negro leaped on the running board as the car reached a place near the Home Oil Company station while it was still going slowly.

Holding to the car, the negro cut Isaac on the arm. Isaac then struck the negro, sending him to the pavement, before he stopped his machine and walked back to the spot where the negro had fallen.

Rising, the negro hit Isaac over the head with two fishing poles he carried and tried without success to dodge Isaac's fists. When the negro wounded Isaac again with the knife, the blade bent and he turned and ran north across the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks and into the darkness.

Isaac was treated by Dr. T. C. McClure at about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, his wounds being closed with ten clips. He said later in the day that he had never before seen the negro who assaulted him. He could think of no motive for the attack except attempted robbery, he said. Isaac is employed by the Midwest Dairy Products Company.

In Court Thursday morning Milo G. Gresham, Field's attorney, told the negroes story. Fields had fished late at night, Gresham said, because of coolness and because catfish bite better after dark. He was walking home in the morning with his poles, several fish, and a case knife he used to cut bait.

Reaching town, he met Isaac's car being driven on the highway. It passed Fields, then backed suddenly toward him, Gresham said, making him jump in the ditch to avoid being struck. Are you trying to run over a fellow Fields is supposed to have called.

Isaac then turned his car around at the Home Oil Company station and returned, Gresham said, getting late at night, Gresham said, he would show Fields what a white man could do to a negro. Isaac grabbed the fishing poles, Gresham charges, and broke them over Fields' head. While Fields was trying to defend himself, Isaac was cut with the case knife, but as soon as he could escape from Isaac's hold, Gresham said, he ran north, followed by Isaac. He hid in a cotton patch until Isaac gave up a search and returned to his car. Then without his fish, poles, or hat, Fields went home.

Isaac and a companion, whose name was not learned, are said to have been drinking at the time of the encounter. Fields is now free on a $100 bond. His hearing is scheduled to be held next Thursday.

NEGROE'S WIFE BETRAYS HIM BY BUYING CLOTHES

W. S. Coleman, a negro who robbed the Ansell Brothers' service station of $15 in money and two inner tubes Monday night was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt. He is now in the Benton jail, where he will be kept until he is taken to Judge William S. Smith's court for trial.

Shuffitt suspected Coleman as the station burglar when he saw the negro's wife, Anna Mae, buying merchandise at stores here. He found Coleman at the Ansell station Monday night, and after he had questioned both man and the woman, Shuffitt obtained a confession from them. He also recovered $3.45 of the money and a dress, a pair of shoes, hose, and earrings bought by Anna Mae.

In talking to Shuffitt, Coleman said that he stole a key to the station and safe Monday afternoon. That night he entered without difficulty and escaped with his loot.

Coleman was bound over to the circuit court Thursday after he had told about his theft to officers in Judge Smith's office. In his confession Thursday he stated he hid in the station loft until the Anells went home, then unlocked the safe, took the money, and climbed out of the window. He denied stealing the inner tubes.

J. T. Fletcher, a negro boy arrested Wednesday is to be tried in the juvenile court for theft of the tubes.

Thompson Bound to Court

Bill Thompson was bound to the circuit court Thursday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Thompson was arrested Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt. He is now in on bond.

PENNSYLVANIA TO FORBID NEGRO DISCRIMINATION

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug.—A new law that will prohibit discrimination against Negroes or any other persons "because of race, creed or color," will become effective in Pennsylvania on Sept. 1.

Hotel and restaurant men are considering an attack on the law's constitutionality. The measure passed both houses of the General Assembly with virtually no opposition. A few days later, however, the House of Representatives received a resolution to recall the bill from the Governor but in the meantime he signed it.

The act stipulates specifically there shall be no discrimination in such places as taverns, hotels, restaurants, soda fountains, hospitals, bathhouses, theatres, amusement and recreation parks, gymnasiums, schools and all public conveyances such as street cars and busses. The penalty for violation is a fine of $100 to 500 and imprisonment of 30 to 90 days.

WILL ROGERS ON THE HEREAFTER

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Some of Will Rogers' thoughts on the hereafter were recalled today from the pages of a book written by his old friend, the late Charles M. Russell, Montana cowboy artist.

Russell died several years ago as he was about to complete the book, "Trails Plowed Under," a collection of reminiscences of the old West, illustrated by his own paintings and line drawings. The book was published last year by Doubleday Doran.

Rogers wrote the introduction in the form of a letter to his old friend in the other world. It was done about nine years ago. With characteristic modesty, Rogers disclaimed the ability to write an introduction. Continuing, he said:

"There ain't much news here to tell you. You know the big Boss sent a hand-over, and got you so quick, Charley. But I guess He needed a good man pretty bad. I hear they been working short-handed over there pretty much all the time; I guess it's hard for Him to get hold of good men, they are just getting scarce everywhere . . .

" . . . I bet you hadn't been up there three days until you had cut your old pencil and was a drawing something funny about some of their old punchers . . . I bet you Mark Twain and old Bill Nye and Whitcomb Riley and a whole bunch of those old joshers was just a waiting for you to pop in with all the latest ones, what kind of a bird is Washington and Jefferson. I bet they are regular fellows when you meet 'em, ain't they? Most big men are. I would like to see the bunch that is gathered around you the first time you tell the one about putting the limburger cheese in the old Nestor's whiskers. Don't tell that Charley until you get Lincoln around you; he would love that; I bet you and him kinder throw in together when you get well acquainted. Darn it, when I get to thinking about all them top hands up there, if I could just hold a horse-wrangling job with 'em I wouldn't mind following that wag-on myself . . .

"You will run onto me old dad up there, Charley, for he was a real cowhand and I bet he is running a wagon, and you will pop into some well-kept ranch house over under some cool, shady trees and you will be asked to have dinner, and it will be the best one you ever had in your life. Well, when you are a thanking the wonderful little old lady that you know her boy back on an outfit you used to rep for, and tell the daughters that you knew their brother, and if you see a cute little rascal running around there, kiss him for me. Well, can't write you any more, Charley; dam paper's all wet; it must be raining in this old bunk house.

"Of course, we are all just a hanging on here as long as we can. I don't know why we hate to go, we know it's better there. Maybe it's because we haven't done anything that will live after we are gone.

"From your old friend,
"WILL."

NEW WOMEN'S PRISON IS BEING CONSIDERED

Plans for a new women's penitentiary and a hospital unit for the state penitentiary, both to be erected at Jefferson City, are now being considered by the Bipartisan Advisory Board of the State Building Commission.

Estimates on these two proposed structures aggregate $560,000, making a total of $4,433,036 in construction in the hands of architects at this time. There is now under actual construction on Missouri's $13,000,000 building program, a total of $633,481.

Final plans have been completed for two new dormitories at the Marshall State School. They will cost $204,000. Work has also been started on a new dormitory at the St. Joseph State Hospital. It will cost $201,208. Bids for the construction of four dormitories at the Alago Reformatory will be received this month. The estimated cost is $250,000.

Mrs. G. A. Quinn of Hornersville writes that she will attend our teachers meeting on September 12 and discuss the work of the Parent-Teachers Association. We have not had many P.-T. A. organizations in the county and the teachers will be glad to get acquainted with the inside workings. Such groups under the wise guidance of discreet officials can be of tangible value to the school life of a community.

R. A. Moyers, former superintendent at Kewanee and Portageville, writes that he would like to give college instruction for credit to teachers of this county and adjoining counties. He has done most of the required work for a Ph. D. Degree and is prepared to offer five courses in History and nine courses in Education. Lawrence Wiseman of Marston Counselor for Emergency Education Program, has just returned from Columbia and will be at the County Superintendent's office on August 24 and 26 to register unemployed teachers and check on their transcripts. To date the new act-up has not been definitely announced.

URGES THAT SPONSORS PROPOSE WPA PROJECTS

Because the federal works progress administration is intended to last only one year, it is imperative that the state's idle be given employment at once on worthwhile projects and that work be well under way before the appearance of inclement weather, Matthew S. Murray, state WPA administrator, announced Tuesday.

Since he is anxious that the project of the WPA be fulfilled within the allotted period, Mr. Murray has urged sponsors throughout the state "to act quickly on proposals they believe to be of benefit to their communities and their people". The state will gladly co-operate in any improvement that may be suggested.

Projects proposed in the eight counties of the ninth area, will be carefully considered at the district office here. If they are satisfactory they will be forwarded to Jefferson City for further approval.

Because persons who are qualified to become sponsors of proposed WPA projects may have forgotten facts pertaining to procedure, Mr. Murray has issued a statement concerning the functions of the WPA.

In creating the WPA, federal officers stipulated that projects should provide jobs for as many persons on relief as possible. For that reason at least 90 per cent of those hired on administration projects must be taken from state's relief rolls. To be qualified for work, persons must also have been registered either in the federal or the state employment service of their district.

The WPA may approve the following types of work, providing they are "useful and constructive": Small works projects: Those of a type where the federal cost upon completion is estimated to be $25,000 or less.

Construction projects: Proposals regardless of cost such as these: Recreational facilities, parks, playgrounds, small dams, ditches, street repairs, demolition of various structures, malaria control, pest extermination, airports, sidewalks, gutters and curbs, levee work, landscaping, grading, farm-to-market roads, reservoirs, and swimming pools.

Non-Construction projects: Those using professional, clerical, and service employees.

Only legally constituted divisions and subdivisions of the state, such as county courts, city councils, township boards of trustees, special road districts, levee and

The Base of Every Modern Room Is a Modern FLOOR!

New wood floors — New tile, stone, linoleum and composition flooring convert old, worn rooms into places for modern living.

Put Your Shabby Kooms
"Back on Their Feet." Turn
Old Floors Into New Ones

"Down at the hell" means slovenly, shabby, unkept—but the expression might very well apply to battered old rooms as well to people. For in most homes, the roughest wear, the hardest knocks, go to the floors.

A scarred and badly battered floor can spoil the entire appearance of an otherwise attractive room. If the floor itself is too hopelessly worn, laying a new one will pay for itself in every day comfort, convenience, satisfaction, and economy of upkeep.

Scraping, sanding, staining or varnishing the old wood floor that has been neglected too long will also help a room "back on its feet". Loose, worn or broken tile, stone or composition floors may need repairs or complete replacement—if the room is to come into its own.

You can have new floors now! Because of the National Housing Act, attractive floors and other permanent home improvements may be installed at once and paid for out of your income—while you enjoy them. If you do not have quite enough money of your own on hand, local Government-approved banks are lending up to $2000 to responsible home owners, with repayment over periods running up to 5 years.

Any of the firms listed on this page will gladly explain to you how modernization credit is obtained. Now is the time to modernize—to begin with battered floors and make that out-of-date house a modern, livable home.

drainage districts, and school boards, are permitted under the law to sponsor projects, Mr. Murray announced, although individuals and private associates may originate any type of project for consideration by these groups.

When projects are perfected, they are sent, together with a survey and estimate of costs, to the district WPA office. Projects may not be started, however, until they have first been approved in Jefferson City and in Washington and until an allotment has been made for costs.

Members of the ninth area WPA staff here will be glad to advise sponsors concerning merits of proposed projects.

TO COLLECT SALES TAX WITH CARDBOARD DISCS

Three million of Missouri's new sales tax "receipts" were ready Wednesday for distribution to merchants and banks throughout the state. The remaining 15,000,000 ordered will be finished by the end of this week. The new sales tax does not become effective until next Tuesday.

The receipts resemble milk bottle caps and will be in half-cent and one-mill denominations. They will be on round waxed cardboard, 1 and 23-32 inches in diameter. The one-mill receipt will be printed in blue and the half-cent ones in brown. Both will bear a facsimile of the state seal, their value, and this inscription: "Missouri Retailers' Sale Tax Receipts".

"I feel quite certain that the citizens of Missouri, realizing that old age pensions, relief for the poor and distressed, and the care of our unfortunate insane, are dependent upon the proper collection of the sales tax, will wholeheartedly co-operate in the enforcement of that law and willingly obey its mandates," Governor Guy B. Park said Tuesday.

"The cost inconvenience is inconsequential compared with the great good to be accomplished."

NEGROES CHARGED WITH TRYING TO WRECK TRAINS

Wyatt Rogers, 16-year-old negro boy of near Matthews, and Howard Frank Taylor of Memphis, Tenn., also a negro lad, are being held in Southeast Missouri jails on charges of trying to wreck Frisco trains.

Rogers, officers say, put an iron rail spike at a rail joint, placing it upright between the ends of two rails. Because the sun had made the rails expand, the spike was held securely when a bridge inspector ran into it with his car. Rogers, who has given no reason for his act, is held in the New Madrid jail.

Taylor told officers he put railroad ties on the main line track near McBride so the train would stop. He wanted a ride home, he said. Taylor tried unsuccessfully three times to stop a train. The first two times, a freight and a passenger knocked the ties away without stopping. The third time, while Taylor was trying to brace the ties with others, he was stopped by a passerby. He is now in jail at Perryville.

The boys will be tried as juvenile delinquents. Charges against them carry a maximum sentence of twenty years.

An unexpected trip to the home of her mother failed to interfere with the baking plans of Mrs. K. B. McLaughlin of Chalk Mound, Kan. She mixed the dough at her home in Wabasha County, kneaded it as the automobile traversed Pottawatomie County and finally baked it at her mother's home in Nemaha County.

Gabriel Santana, 40, was arrested for intoxication at San Jose, Cal. When the identification expert of the Police Department started to take his fingerprints, he thought he was seeing double. Then he looked again and devised a special card for the prisoner. Santana had an extra thumb perfectly formed, on each hand.

Jefferson City will receive $3664 for painting school buildings; Fulton will get $5030 for road grading and graveling; Moberly will receive $17,018 for surfacing 12 miles of road; Kennett will be given $4664 for improving its school grounds; Sikeston will be allowed $5320 for laying water main; St. Louis will get $55,926 for landscaping sanitary grounds, $7983 for improving nursery, $62,610 for treating trees along streets and parks, and $19,886 for street work; and Kansas City will receive $72,080 and $275,084 respectively for street grading and paving.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation on August 4 estimated its liability to 14,279 insured banks at $18,000,000. Deposits in these institutions in which deposits are estimated to be in excess of $41,000,000,000.

Ed Krumland, rancher near Byron, Cal., poured a chloride of lime solution into a termite-infested tree to kill the insects—and to his astonishment out walked six naked squirrels which lost all their hair as the result of the bath.

Hon. Guy B. Parks, Governor of Missouri has been invited to attend the Neighbor Day meeting at Benton, Thursday, October 3, and it is believed and hoped that he can be present.

The Standard has a call for a 5, 6, or 7 room house. What have you?

Mrs. Nelle Muench, of St. Louis, charged with complicity in the kidnapping of Dr. Kelly and to be tried at Mexico, Mo., in September, announces that she is the mother of a 6-pound son which she says is a "gift from God" in her hour of deepest trouble. She has been married 23 years and as this is her first "gift from God" leads one to believe that this gift might be a stall to seek a further delay in her trial.

AWARDED $1500 FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mrs. Lydia Darby was awarded $1500 late Monday by a jury that heard her damage suit against L. S. Smith, filed after the death of her husband, Arthur Darby, from injuries suffered when he was struck by Smith's car.

Testimony and deliberation on the case required all of Monday. Jurors were Luther Felker, foreman, Lomis Mayfield, Joe Pelley, Hez Osmont, John Little, Arthur Huey, Joe Welter, E. F. Eggiman, W. E. Hobbs, W. L. Strayhorn, Andrew Welter, and Frank Williams.

Darby, a Stoddard county relief client, sustained a fractured left leg when he was knocked down on Highway 60 near Buffington, February 6. He died the following day in a Cape Girardeau hospital after his leg was amputated following the development of gas bacillus. The case was tried at Benton on a change of venue from New Madrid county.

These divorces have been granted in the circuit court during the last week: Xenoline Isaacs from Robert Isaacs and change of name.

MAN DACE CAUGHT HAS SERVED PRISON TERMS

Leonard Kesterson, whom Trooper Melvin Dace captured Sunday after a chase down Highway 60 and a hunt in a cornfield east of town, is a former convict, Prosecuting Attorney W. P. Wilkerson said Thursday.

According to records at the bureau of identification in Washington, Kesterson was arrested at Little Rock, Ark., in August, 1933 by a United States marshal and charged with violating the Dyer act. No disposition of this case was noted, but Kesterson was received at the Eddyville, Ky., state penitentiary on October, 1933, to begin serving a two-year sentence. He was admitted at the same prison in 1927 to serve a four-year term for store breaking and malicious shooting.

Kesterson is now in the Benton jail, where he is being held for appearance in the circuit court on an automobile theft charge. The car he was driving was stolen, at Hamilton, Mo., last Saturday night, he told officers in confessing the crime. A Sikeston resident recalled this week that Kesterson was once tried and acquitted at Hickman, Ky., on a charge of killing his half-brother. He will be represented in court at Benton by Robert Dempster.

COLEMAN'S CAR WRECKED AS IT STRIKES BRIDGE

E. P. Coleman's new Dodge coupe was badly damaged early Thursday morning when in struck a drainage ditch bridge on Highway 60 directly east of Morehouse.

Carl Estes, who was driving the car, suffered only minor cuts and bruises. The bridge's south railing was completely torn off.

The accident happened at about 3 o'clock Thursday. Art Sensenbaugh, who was called to get the Dodge, found it sitting at an angle on the south shoulder, its mashed front pointed toward the ditch. Damage to the car was estimated at between $350 and $400.

Estes, an employee of E. P. Coleman and Company, was treated here by Dr. T. C. McClure. He was recovering Thursday at his home three miles north of Morehouse. On Wednesday afternoon, two out-of-town cars collided in town near the Marshall hotel. Damage was slight and no one was hurt.

DENTIST'S OFFICE WILL BE FINISHED NEXT WEEK

Remodeling of a People's bank building office for Dr. Chidister, a Camden, Ark., dentist who will arrive here next week, will be completed before the end of August, J. A. Sutterfield, the contractor, said Thursday.

Carpenters Thursday afternoon finished converting the former office of the late Harry Smith into several small rooms for Dr. Chidister. Esters are to begin work this morning. All plumbing, except installation of fixtures, was completed this week.

Judge W. H. Carter left Wednesday evening for Vienna, Ill., to attend a county fair. He will return home Sunday.

RECOVERY NOTES

Compiled by Dwight H. Brown
Secretary of State

Hogs were selling for $12.10 per hundred on the St. Louis market August 15—the highest price since in April, 1929.

Twelve federal building projects in Missouri have just been approved by the federal government. New post offices will be constructed at Marceline, Higginsville, Richmond, Monett, Fredericktown, Vandalia, Kennett and Wellston. Post office-courthouse buildings will be constructed at Kansas City and Springfield, a branch post office at University City and a marine hospital at St. Louis.

The residential building volume in St. Louis and St. Louis county for the first half of this year was more than two and one-half times as great as for the same period in 1934. The F. W. Dodge Corporation announces. Construction contracts to date this year total $7,252,300 as compared with $2,767,500 for the first half of last year.

The U. S. Commerce Department announces that reports from 33 of the larger cities of the nation indicate "expectations of a considerable increase in fall business." A survey of hundreds of firms also indicates an increase in employment beginning with this month.

An increase in Missouri's corn yield for this year is forecast by E. A. Logan, federal statistician at Columbia. Present indications point to a total corn yield of 81,468,000 bushels, an average of 18 bushels per acre, as compared with last year's total yield of but 26,482,000 bushels.

More than $90,000,000 is to be spent by the motor car industry in plant expansions. The General Motors Corporation has announced a $50,000,000 building program, the Ford Motor Company a $27,000,000 expansion program, the Buick Motor Company a $14,500,000 program, the Packard Company a $6,200,000 program and other companies plan new construction to cost millions.

Business is good in St. Louis. In 1934 the F. Burkhardt Manufacturing Company of St. Louis made a net profit of $249,664. To date the company's profit for one-half of 1935 is $450,000, an increase of more than 60 per cent.

Soil conservation camps have been established by the federal government in six Missouri counties, namely, Clark, Franklin, Callaway, Harrison, Marion and Atchison. The Marion County camp is located at Palmyra, and at the suggestion of Editor Don Sosey of that city, has been named Camp Wm. P. Jackson in honor of Gen. Wm. P. Jackson, who was born in Palmyra and served for many years in the regular Army. Hundreds of men have been given employment in these camps.

Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of public schools, has drafted an emergency educational program to be conducted by teachers from the relief rolls for the benefit of about 30,000 Missourians. A total of 987 unemployed teachers are now being prepared to conduct classes in adult education and the program will get under way when federal funds for that purpose become available. Last year the FEERA spent $65,000 per month in the state.

The Missouri National Guard is seeking WPA funds for the erection of ten armories in as many Missouri cities. The buildings contemplated will cost $25,000 and the cities in which they are to be built will be selected by National Guard officers.

Construction projects continue to be planned by Missouri cities and counties. Belle is to have a new $75,000 water works system; Springfield will build a $29,969 water works and a $21,621 sanitary sewer system; Centralia is to have a $35,000 school gymnasium; Harrison county is to erect a new $105,735 courthouse; and Saline county is requesting $180,507 for improving 85 miles of rural highways.

TO DISCUSS 1936 COTTON PROGRAM
Director Cully A. Cobb to be at Caruthersville Meeting

Scott county cotton producers who attend the meeting at Caruthersville, Saturday, August 31, will have an opportunity to hear at first hand, from Director Cully A. Cobb of the cotton division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a report of progress made to date and plans for continued efforts to improve the economic condition of cotton. This will not only be the first visit of Director Cobb to this area, but will also be the first all-Missouri and Illinois cotton growers' meeting.

Cotton growers of this area are as vitally interested in the objectives of the cotton adjustment program as are cotton growers of other areas. These objectives have been summed up by Director Cobb as follows: (1) To adjust supplies of American cotton to the demand at a fair price to the producer, and after supplies are brought in line with demand, to maintain a proper balance between supply and demand; (2) To increase the cotton producer's annual income to a level which will enable him to maintain a standard of living equal to that maintained by those in other occupations; (3) To enable cotton producers individually to organize their farming operations so as to make the best possible use of the land and labor.

It is planned by the State Cotton Board, in charge of the arrangements for the Caruthersville meeting, to ask farm organizations of both states to send official representatives to the meeting. The meeting will be held at the fairgrounds where every provision will be made for the comfort of the crowd. A public address system with four loud speakers will make it easy for everyone to hear the speaking clearly. The speakers stand will be under temporary cover directly in front of the covered grandstand where the crowd will assemble.

In a meeting for county committeemen held in the forenoon, Judge M. R. Rowland, Caruthersville, chairman of the AAA Cotton State Board of Review, will preside. J. A. Hemphill, Dunklin county, who is chairman of the State Allotment Board, will preside at the afternoon meeting.

PROCESSING TAX NOW LEVIED UPON 8 FARM PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—AAA processing taxes are now levied on eight agricultural commodities. Funds from the taxes are used to pay benefits to farmers who have reduced production of the affected commodities.

The tax is collected on the first domestic processing of the commodity. The processor pays the tax to the government, passing it on when he sells the commodity or absorbing it as a business cost.

Taxes now levied are:
Wheat, 30 cents a bushel.
Cotton, 5.2 cents per pound.
Hogs, 2.25 cents per pound.
Corn, 5 cents a bushel.
Peanuts, 1 cent a pound.
Rice, 1 cent a pound.
Sugar, 1-2 cent a pound.
Tobacco, 3 to 6 cents a pound, depending on type and grade.

"THE CHURCH—WHAT IS IT?"

By Elder John B. Huffman
Next Saturday afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, on the streets of Sikeston, Mo., in the little park in front of Sterling's store, Elder John B. Huffman says he will fully explain, "What is the Church, How Do We Get Into It," and that all men and women truly born again should be recognized as Christians; that creeds and doctrines are damning souls each year. He says Jesus Christ alone is the Savior, and not church organizations.

Saturday afternoon, August 31, at 2 o'clock, "What is the Anti-Christ," and all about this Beast which rules for three and a half years, trying to show that he is God, he says.

Saturday afternoon, September 7th, "The Two Witnesses" of the eleventh chapter of the Revelation—the important part they play in the Tribulation Period.

Elder Huffman says that more people were present at both of his recent lectures than could have been seated in an ordinary church building. He says that in 1932 after raising money from business men and others to buy lots 18 and 19, McCoy-Tanner's third addition to the city of Sikeston—the old Held lots across the railroad from the interlocking tower, in Frisco town, having just a little money left over from purchase of lots and paying back taxes, he gave one of his farms to be used to help erect the new Sikeston church building. "The Latter Rain Tabernacle." That as soon as he can sell it, work will be commenced on the church. If the farm could be sold in ten days, work would be commenced at once. It has been difficult to sell farms the past few years.

He says everybody is invited to his Bible sermons.

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON—Control-room reception, which gives radio programs in the home exactly as produced in a station studio, has just been announced by A. Atwater Kent, the pioneer radio engineer, and his son, Atwater, Jr., who also has chosen radio for a career. They are shown comparing one of the father's first radio chassis with one of the new control-room reception models they jointly produced. Metal tubes are used in the new instrument.

Q. My meat loaves frequently are too dry. What is the cause of this?

A.—Your meat loaves might be dry from either lack of fat or lack of moisture. If the meat is extraordinarily lean, have the market man grind two of three slices of salt pork with it, or line your loaf pan with bacon and place strips of bacon over the top.

Matthews Wagon Yard, Rain or Shine
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

We will offer in this sale Mississippi cattle, cows with calves, springers, springer heifers, native stock cattle of all kinds, stock hogs, sows with pigs, farm machinery of various kinds, and ice boxes.

We plan to make our sale a real service to farmers and stockmen of Southeast Missouri and invite you to list your surplus with us. Our past sales have been satisfactory to buyers and sellers and we will continue to make it so.

Attend Our Sales---It Will Pay You

Merchants—We sell everything. List your surplus with us.

If you add bread crumbs, moisten the loaf with slightly beaten egg, or tomato juice, and bake it in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) until it is done, about one and a half hours. A higher temperature than this has a drying effect; also too long cooking produces the same effect.

Q.—How should meat which is left-over from the meal be cared for?

A.—As soon as the meal is over, the meat should be placed in a covered container or wrapped in wax paper and put in a cold place. Unless meat is covered or wrapped before placed in the refrigerator it will dry out and become hard.

There is one exception to the rule of covering meat in the refrigerator. If it is to be kept for a long time, the dried sides helps in preservation. However, in this case, the dry outside slices should be removed before the meat is prepared.

Q.—In broiling my meats often curl. What can I do to avoid this?

A.—Cut the fat around the outside in several gashes. This is especially necessary in broiling ham, as the fat around the outside does not give as the meat expands. If your ham still persists in curling have it cut thicker. A thick piece of meat always holds its shape better than does a very thin one.

Charles Dickens DAVID COPPERFIELD

CHAPTER XII (Conclusion)

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE After a period of bitter unhappiness as a child, David Copperfield, orphaned, had been rescued and adopted by his aunt Betsy Trotwood. Living at the Wickfield home during school days, he and Agnes Wickfield became fast friends. Then, grown up, David departed for London bent on a writing career. There he met and married Dora Spenlow. Shortly afterwards she died and David had gone away to a second wife, who is now Wickfield's partner. Wickfield has just told Agnes his fear of Heep.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

England, Home and Beauty

Agnes cradled her father's head in her arms. "I know you've done nothing wrong, father," she said comfortingly. He rested there, seeming to find some solace in her quiet embrace.

But when David, on his arrival, made his way straight to the Micawbers, he returned twice and indeed been grounds for his fears.

In the Tower Office, they found Micawber at the fireplace, nervously fidgeting with the tongs. "May I offer you the cup that cheers but not inebriates?" he asked Aunt Betsy courteously. He noticed his trembling fingers with distaste.

"Mother, I am not always the wreck you at the present behold," he added brokenly.

"If confiding anything to friends would relieve you," David suggested tactfully.

"—Micawber checked himself. "You behold a man who is struggling with a complicated burden of perplexity and despair. And with this he pulled out his handkerchief and burst into tears."

"Bless you, sir!" David cried, thoroughly disconcerted. "What's the matter?"

Micawber exploded. "What is the matter? What is the matter? Baseness is the matter! Deceit, fraud, conspiracy are the matter! And the name of the whole atrocious mass is HEEP!"

Putting a hand to his forehead and gasping and sobbing all at once, Micawber continued to rave, though necessity has driven me to become his tool—even though he holds me in the hollow of his hand, I shall not rest—until I have blown to fragments the detestable serpent—HEEP!"

"Tomorrow morning, every-day present. I will crush to undiscoverable atoms, the abandoned rascal Heep! I will move Mount Vesuvius to eruption on the trans-Atlantic and immortal hypocrite HEEP!"

And as if to applaud his words, the kettle suddenly exploded, the lid flying in the air.

The next morning, Uriah opened the door of his office to Aunt Betsy, David, Mr. Dick and Mr. Micawber.

Uriah swept them all with a surprised and suspicious glance. "Wickfield and Agnes now entered and joined the others. 'Don't wait Micawber,' he said shortly. But as Micawber closed the door and advanced, he asked, 'What are you waiting for?'

"Because, in short—I choose!" Uriah was breathing more quickly now and staring at him intently. "You are a worthless fellow," he said, "as all the world knows and I'm afraid you'll oblige me to get rid of you. Go along! I'll talk to you presently."

"If there is a scoundrel on this earth with whom I have talked too much," Micawber shouted in a terrible outburst, "that scoundrel's name is HEEP!"

Uriah was taken aback. Then he darted a wicked glance at all of them. "Oh, no! This is a conspiracy! We understand each other, you and me. There's no love between you. You were always a puppy with proud stomach, from your first coming here and you envy me my rise do you? You'll make nothing of this! I'll match you!"

David stepped forward. "Mr. Micawber, there is a change in this fellow which assures me that he is right. Deal with him as he deserves."

"New come," Uriah warned them all. "I've got some of you under the harrow. Think twice before it goes over you!"

"I'm the agent for Mr. Wickfield," David said coldly. "I have a power of attorney from him in my pocket to act for him in all matters."

Micawber now drew a legal document from his pocket with a flourish and began to read from it, blanching a large ruler for emphasis.

"Dear Miss Trotwood, Mr. Copperfield," he said glancing scornfully at Uriah, "and others whom it may concern. In denouncing the most consummate villain that has ever existed—Without looking off the letter he pointed the ruler accusingly at Uriah. 'I ask no compensation for myself. I have been myself enmeshed in this villain's machinations. I declare that Heep, and Heep only of the firm of Wickfield and Heep, is the forger and cheat.'"

"Liar!" Uriah spit out the epithet, then rushed at Micawber and tried to snatch the document. Micawber with agile dexterity cracked Uriah's advancing knuckles with the ruler, disabling the latter's hand. "I'll be even with you for this," Uriah shouted in rage and pain. "You've carried out my orders! You're in this as much as I!"

Micawber coolly proceeded with his reading. "My charges against Heep are as follows: First, he has caused Mr. Wickfield to sign documents of importance, representing them as of no importance—therefore empowering Heep to draw out trust monies. Heep gave this proceeding the appearance of having originated in Mr. Wickfield's dishonesty and has used this power over him ever since to control him and torture him."

"Second, Heep has systematically forged to various books and documents the signature of Mr. Wickfield. Third and last, I can show by Heep's false books and private memoranda that he has for years deluded and plundered Mr. Wickfield with the object of subjecting both him and his daughter, Micawber, to the paper. 'I have now concluded. And although poverty and imprisonment may follow, I trust that the labor of these investigations may be as a sprinkling of sweet water on my funeral pyre. I ask no more.'"

Uriah, who had been standing rigid, now rushed to the safe, flung open the doors and fumbled frantically in all the compartments. They were empty. He turned in a frightful gaze. "Where are the books? Some thief has stolen the books!"

Micawber tapped his chest with the ruler. "I did—when I got the key from you as usual, but a little earlier, and opened the safe this morning."

"Don't be uneasy," David said with a faint smile. "They have come into my possession."

"You receive stolen goods do you?"

"What do you want done?" Uriah snarled, defeat now written all over him.

"I will tell you what must be done," David said decisively. "First, the deed of partnership must be given over to me now—here."

"Suppose I haven't got it!" Uriah replied sullenly.

"Then you must return the bonds of the matter?"

"I must speak plainly Agnes," David said earnestly. "I must tell you—I went away loving you, I stayed away loving you, I returned home loving you."

Uriah opened the door of his office to Aunt Betsy, David, Mr. Dick and Mr. Micawber.

Uriah swept them all with a surprised and suspicious glance. "Wickfield and Agnes now entered and joined the others. 'Don't wait Micawber,' he said shortly. But as Micawber closed the door and advanced, he asked, 'What are you waiting for?'

Agnes replied was barely a whisper. "I've loved you all my life."

David drew her to him and they stood there, close together, in heart and spirit.

BRADBURY-PATTON

The marriage of Miss Elsie C.

Charles Patton of East St. Louis, and Charles L. Bradbury of St.
Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas.
E. Bradbury of Charleston and St.
Louis, was solemnized Sunday, at 6:30 p. m. at the Westminster
Presbyterian church in Charleston, Rev. D. D. Ellis, pastor of the church officiating.

Beautiful midsummer flowers arranged in floor baskets and ferns were used in decoration of the altar before which the party stood for the wedding ceremony.

Miss Anetta Esther Marshall of Charleston played.

The bride was attired in a beautiful wedding gown of white satin, fashioned princess style, with long sleeves and yoke of lace, and skirt which fell floor length, with which she wore a bridal hat of white chiffon and white accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Doris Dever of Charleston served as the bride's only attendant. She wore a pretty frock of navy blue net. Her hat and other accessories were white and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Al Booth of Charleston served as the groom's attendant.

Sixty-five relatives and intimate friends were in attendance.
Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party and several friends attended a dinner served at the Ellis annex.

A color motif of pink and white was carried out both in the table decorations and in the menu. A large bridal cake formed the central decoration for the bride's table.

The out of town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs.
John R. Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bennett, Mrs. Hattie Cawthorne and daughter, Geneva,
Miss Christine Cawthorne, and George Moore of Sikeston; Miss
Martha Holmes of Morehouse,
